Projectric Fact Sheet

Overview

In a business landscape that demands digital transformation and innovation at a rapid pace, organizations must automate processes, maintain existing IT infrastructure and oversee the roll-out and migration of new systems - or risk falling behind the competition.

Managing Project Portfolios as a corporate asset requires more than just a project management tool. The sheer volume of projects in the typical enterprise requires simple but powerful tools to manage.

Projectric is a cloud-based Project Portfolio Management (PPM) solution that identifies the right projects for approval, allocates and manages resources, and provides insight into these initiatives.

Simply put, Projectric helps companies understand what drives their Business Performance via its Portfolio Intelligence capabilities
